

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT SUPPER TABLE SERIES

A Diet for Mental Dyspepsia—A Salm for Small Salaries. A SALVE FOR BAD CUTS. The whole carefully compounded and put up expressly for Family Use.

BY OUR SERIES EDITOR. NUMBER CCXXV. SATURDAY AT FAIRMOUNT PARK. REVIEW OF THE SCHUYLKILL NAVY.

1. The Audience.

A funny incident happened to the clergyman who preaches in the Ohio State Penitentiary. He met a female inmate who is said to be very crazy, who sharply asked, "Well, chaplain, how do you like to preach to us?" "Very well, indeed," was his reply. "You behave well, and quiet and attentive. I like preaching to you very well, indeed." "In that case, chaplain," replied the girl, with a sigh, "go ahead. Preach as you have a mind to. I suppose you are the best we can afford now."

A gentleman, talking with his gardener, expressed his admiration at the rapid growth of the trees. "Why, yes, sir," says the man; "please to consider that they have nothing else to do."

Young Lady (who has been taken half a mile beyond her destination).—"It's really too bad! I told you when I first got in where I wished to be set down!"

Conductor.—"Well, Miss, I let you out as soon as I could find in my 'art to part with yer." N. B. No more was said.

Why a woman's dress does not require any praise—Because it's so much puffed already.

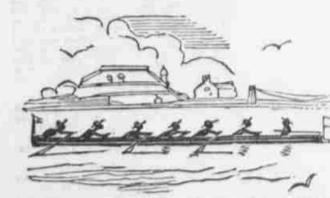

2. Pattern of the Sculls.

A NEW MARRIAGE CEREMONY.—Upon the authority of a Paris correspondent the following is the latest marriage ceremony: Priest to the bridegroom, etat. 60. "Do you marry this woman under any delusion?" "No." "Are you held?" "Yes." "Any teeth?" "No." "Do you wear flannel?" "Yes." "You believe in rheumatism and have faith in gout?" "Yes." "You are utterly bored and incapable of being amused?" "Yes." "You care for nobody but yourself?" "Certainly not." "Not for your bride?" "Naturally not." "Very good; then you two are united in the name of the law. Make her happy."

A lady was examining an applicant for the office of "maid of all work," when she interrogated her as follows: "Well, Mary, can you scour tin-ware with alacrity?" "No, ma'am," replied Mary; "I always scour them with sand."

THE CHEAPEST OF LAWYERS.—Keeping one's own counsel. "Bridget, what have you done with the cream? Those children cannot eat skim-milk for breakfast." "Shure, mum, and it isn't myself that would be after given' the seam to ye. I tuk it off and give it to the cats."

"What are you burning off my writing-table, sonny?" said an author to his six-year old. "Only the paper that was written all over, papa. I hadn't touched the clean."

3. Order—"Ready, Men!"

PREJUDICES are like rats, and a man's mind like a trap; they get in easily, and then can't get out at all.

Why is the camel the most irascible animal in the world?—Because he always has his back up.

A PLANT that is soon to be extinct—Leaks in the Treasury.

Why was Jonah the strongest man?—Because the whale couldn't hold him after he had got him down.

What ship is always laden with knowledge?—Scholarship.

A love-lorn swain broke a wish-bone with his "heart's queen" somewhere up in New Hampshire. "Now, what do you wish, Sally?" demanded Jonathan, with a tender grin of expectation. "I wish I was handsome," replied the damsel, "handsome as—Queen Victoria." "Jerusalem! what a wish," replied Jonathan, "when you're handsome 'nuff now! But I'll tell you what I wish—I wish you were locked in my arms and the key was lost."

Dread-Alive. On reading the following advertisement we were tempted to exclaim:—"This is the very (and) whiching hour of night. When churchyards yawn, and graves give up their dead." The announcement, at a first glance, is startling. "HOWEVER. A highly respectable middle-aged person, who has been filling the office situation with a gentleman for upwards of eleven years, and who is now deceased, is anxious to meet with a similar one. Can be well recommended for kind disposition, economical habits, and household experience. Address E. B., etc."

When a respectable person, who has been eleven years housekeeper, and "who is now deceased," applies for an engagement, she may fairly plead "economical habits"—her "living" would cost nothing, of course. But we fear that a defunct housekeeper advertising for a new place is such a rarity that she is not likely to "meet with a similar one."

TONING DOWN.—When Napoleon I escaped from Elba the Moniteur, then belonging to Louis XVIII, thus chronicled the progress of Napoleon.—The "anthropologist" has escaped—the "Corsican ogre" has landed—the "tiger" is coming—the "monster" has slept at Grenoble—the "tyrant" has arrived at Lyons—the "usurper" has been seen in the environs of Paris—"Bonaparte" advances towards, but will never enter the capital—"Napoleon" will be under our ramparts to-morrow—"the Emperor" has arrived at Fontainebleau—and, lastly, "his Imperial Majesty" entered the Tuilleries on the 21st of March "in the midst of his faithful subjects."

A Louisiana paper has the following:—"A mother and her child were accidentally ground up in Boggs' sugar-cane mill last week. We regret the accident, as the quality of sugar furnished at the place has been very good."

Why is a baby like a sheaf of wheat?—Because it is first cradled, then thrashed, and finally becomes the flower of the family.

FEMALE RINGS.—Ladies' sewing circles.

TAKE IT EASY.—It is no uncommon thing for people with plenty of "go" in them to go—to the bad.

4. Order—"Men, Away!"

Horoscope for 1869. January.—Corns will be troublesome this month, but all evil effects from them may be obviated by a careful study of Bunyan's works. Children cutting their teeth must be careful how they use the razors, or we cannot be answerable for the consequences.

February.—By applying at the General Post Office on the 14th of this month, you may ascertain how many foolish people there are in the country.

March.—This month being March, of course March hares will be abundant. Thousands of persons will make themselves ill by eating hot cross buns.

April.—There may be an eruption of Vesuvius about now, and I should advise all the inhabitants of the surrounding towns to quit the country. On second thoughts, perhaps they had better remain where they are, as there may not be an eruption after all. My latest information from the dear evater is not very precise.

May.—Many monarchs will tremble in their shoes about now, and out of them too probably. In the significance of this statement I need only point out the fact that May and monarchs begin with the same letter. Prophecies have often been made on less grounds than this.

June.—The end of the world approaches. This may do for many other months; but the value of the prediction is that nobody can deny it. Look out its fulfillment is cunning.

July.—There will now be some hot days, as indicated by the rise of the thermometer. Tempests will rise in consequence, and we may look for thunder-storms.

August.—Dog days will be on us. Animals will be running about for water in a half-mad condition.

September.—There will be no shooting-stars visible in the metropolis this month; they may be found in the country, though principally on the moors. Rail up fruit trees now; if you haven't got any, borrow some from your neighbors. You may also sow vegetable seeds for a spring crop, but you had better postpone sowing wild oats.

October.—Napoleon is just about to declare war against the King of Prussia; but, receiving a copy of the yearly volume of THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, which has just been sent to him, he telegraphs to stay hostilities until he has perused the interesting work. On finishing it he postpones the war altogether, and takes to writing for THE TELEGRAPH.

November.—Dark days are upon us, and, as a corollary, dark deeds. Burglars will be abroad, and I should advise their victims not to be "abroad" too. Half-quarter day being in this month, there will be many "hittings" by the pale moonlight. As a natural consequence rents will be invisible, except in the garments of street Arabs.

December.—THE EVENING TELEGRAPH will become more and more popular—in fact, a general favorite with all classes of the community. Though there may be occasionally a mistake in the foregoing predictions, I stake my honor as an astrologer upon this last prophecy. The stars are at cross purposes in several other matters, but in this they are perfectly harmonious and unanimous.

A milkman sometimes resembles the whale that swallowed Jonah; for he takes a great prophetic (profit) out of the water.

5. "Now, Boys, Altogether!"
